

Six Macques: A Story of Transformation from Lab Primates to Animal Ambassadors

This is the story of six pig-tailed Macaques who were released by the Hunter College Psychology Department in New York City into the care of Linda Tellington-Jones for potential rehabilitation. On their journey to becoming Animal Ambassadors they greeted school children and visitors to the Tellington TTouch Training office in Santa Fe, New Mexico. After sixteen years of isolation from each other at Hunter College, bringing the group together was thought to be impossible. Thanks to Tellington TTouch, bringing the six together was a smooth transition. The relationships between the macaques and the kittens, puppies and their human care-givers demonstrated inspiring interspecies connections.
