

Naked Guide to Cider

Cider and perry are enjoying a boom, but today's new generation of cider enthusiasts want to do more than just drink cider. As sales of small-scale mills and presses show, they want to try making cider for themselves. They also want to explore cider country - to drink in legendary cider pubs and learn more about orchards and apple varieties. Today's consumers want experiences as much as products. They want to get involved, to make and discover things for themselves, and The Naked Guide to Cider will show them how. This is a new kind of cider book for a new generation of cider lovers. It is a guide book, but not like a CAMRA guide. The Naked Guide to Cider will introduce cider lovers to the history and culture of their favorite tittle, and demonstrate, in vivid detail and with clear step-by-step instructions, how to make their own cider. At the same time it will help people to explore cider country, showing where they can stay and where they can drink, buy or learn about cider. Maps and directions are of course included. Readers will enjoy The Naked Guide to Cider in different ways. Some will skim for funny anecdotes, quirky facts or unusual pictures. Others will use it as their cider-making Bible. Some will use it to plan and enjoy a weekend in Somerset or Herefordshire. Others will sit on the sofa and imagine life in a West Country cider house. The Naked Guide to Cider will be down to earth, funny, informative and inspiring. It will have the warts and all quality of an independent guide, but it will promote cider and perry passionately and argue strongly in favour of the local and organic.

The Naked Guide to Cider shows you, step by step, how to make your own cider or perry. Featuring insightful stories and tips from many of Britain's best The Naked Guide to Cider will introduce cider lovers to the history and culture of their favorite tittle, and demonstrate, in vivid detail and with clear step-by-step The Naked Guide to Cider includes more than 200 listings of cider producers, pubs, specialist shops and cider organisations as well as a colour section and a
